Just How She Escaped.

"Early in the '60s I was a railroad telegraph operator down in Georgia," said he, "and I had a mighty narrow escape from being lynched one day. It was in the afternoon. A gang of darkies came along to where my station was, about three miles from any human bab tation. They had in their grasp a beautiful young white girl, and they tied her fest to one rail of the track before my eyes. They then shood there, and pointing revolvers at my head said if I it-terfered in any way they would murder me. Five minutes before the Atlantic express Five minutes before the Atlantic express was due they departed, leaving the girl on the track to be cut in two by the train. I was in torrible suspense. I knew I would be called a coward and a cut if I sliowed that girl to be killed, but I was afraid to signal the train to stop, because I knew the darkies would kill me if I did. But I was going to save my position snyhow. Inst as the train parted my signal station I ran down the track and with a pair of piers cut. down the track and with a pair of pilers cut the wire connecting the signal to the station. By doing this I thought I could tell the railroad efficials that the yandals had cut the wire so that I could not signal it e train. See the fine point? Well, while I was cutting the wire the wind came op anddenly and blew a perfect torondo. Bur oak trees were blown over othat their teps touched the ground, and I had to bang on to the track so that I wouldn't be blown away. Well, when I were don't be blown away. Well, when I went up the track I saw those darkies remains away, and I supposed that the girl had been on in two I was prepared to lock upon a horrible sight, but, to my great loy and other accombine of, she was still note. Loud the one with not pliers still nive. I cut the tope still not pilers and released her. I carried her tenderly up to the signal station, bound up the geshes made to her limbs by the rope, train over, making it can en en eail for about 500 (set before it felt back on the other rail. It so happened that the girl was tied to the rati from which the wheels raised, and that's how she excaned. '-Phil.

"And what?" raked somebody 'And I asked her to be my wife."

WIFT'S SPECIFIC.

A troublesome skin disease caused me to scratch for ten months, and has been cured by few days use of S. S. S. M. H. Wolff, Upper Marlboro, Md.

I was cured several years ago of white swelling in my leg by the use of S. S., and have had no symptoms of any return of the disease. Many prominent physicians attended me and all failed, but S. S. S. did the work. PAUL W. KIRKPATRICK, Johnson City, Ten.
